The Henry J. Austin Nurse Practitioner Residency Program is looking for women and men who want to make a difference. In just one year, you could be making a lasting difference in the lives of hundreds of people. The Henry J. Austin Nurse Practitioner Residency Program is looking for people interested in becoming a Nurse Practitioner focused on providing trauma informed integrated care for vulnerable and underserved populations in cities and rural areas as well as migrant health worker communities.

Residency trainees will work with a primary care provider, deliver trauma informed integrated care in a team environment, work in mentored sessions at a community health center, and much more.
